Course Recognition

To determine if a course is recognized as a credit in our certification programs, visit our website at:

www.payroll.ca → Certification → Transferring Credits → Database of Courses.

If the course is not listed on the CPA website, that course is not currently recognized as a valid course for the CPA's certification credit.

In order to evaluate a course:

- Obtain AND compare an outline of the course (must originate from the institution that offers the course) with the criteria of the course requirements available on the CPA website. The course outline must contain: course title, code, content, length, year the course was offered, and method of evaluation (e.g. assignments/exams).
- If the course outline meets the criteria of the CPA's course requirements, it may qualify for certification credit.
- If the course you took is no longer offered, the institution may be able to provide you with an acknowledgment letter and a course outline of a replacement course they currently offer.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

To transfer credit(s) for certification, the "Payroll Compliance Legislation" course must be successfully completed.

In order to transfer credit(s) in the Canadian Payroll Association (CPA) certification(s) official transcript(s) are required. Please be advised that grade reports printed from the college website and photocopies are not accepted.
